Dear MARK KENNETH MACRIS,

To assist you in understanding your correction summary, we have provided additional information that relates directly to items on your personal credit report.

A divorce decree may not affect your contracts with creditors if you have a joint account with your ex-spouse. You will need to negotiate repayment with creditors. For more information on divorce and how it affects your credit, please send your request to:

Dispute Results

Our reinvestigation of the dispute you recently submitted is now complete. If we were able to make changes to your credit report based on information you provided, we have done so. Otherwise, we have contacted the company reporting the information you disputed, supplied them all relevant information and any documents you gave us with your dispute, and instructed them to: review all information we provide them about your dispute; verify the accuracy of the information; provide us a response to your dispute; and update their records and systems as necessary.

The results are on the following page. If an item disputed is not in the list of results below, it was either not appearing in your credit file or it already reflected the requested status at the time of our reinvestigation. If an item says "Deleted," we have removed it from your credit report and taken steps so it does not reappear. If an item says "Remains," it means the company that reports the information to us has certified it is reported accurately. If an item says "Updated," you should look at the item carefully to see whether you believe it is now accurate. Sometimes the updated information reflects only a change to a balance or date, because the company that reports that item to us has certified that the rest of the information is accurate.

If our reinvestigation has not resolved your dispute, you have several options:

- You may add a statement of up to 100 words to your report. If you provide a consumer statement that contains medical information related to service providers or medical procedures, then you expressly consent to Experian including this information in every credit report we issue about you.

- You may contact the company that reports the information to us and dispute it directly with them. If you wish to obtain documentation or written verification concerning your accounts, please contact your creditors directly.

- You may provide us additional information or documents about your dispute to help us resolve it by visiting www.experian.com/upload. You may also mail your information to Experian, P.O. Box 9701, Allen, Texas 75013.

- You may file a complaint about Experian or the company reporting the item, with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau or your State Attorney General's office.

If there has been a change to your credit history resulting from our reinvestigation, or if you add a consumer statement, you may request that Experian send an updated report to those who received your report within the last two years for employment purposes, or within the last six months for any other purpose (the past 12 months for residents of Colorado, Maryland or New York). If you send a request to have your results sent to past recipients of your credit report, please designate the organization's name and address. In the event an organization is not specifically designated, we will generally default to sending only to companies that have requested your credit information as a result of an action you took, such as applying for credit, insurance, employment or apartment rental.

If interested, you may also request a description of how the reinvestigation was conducted along with the business name, address and telephone number (if reasonably available) of the furnisher of information.

Thank you for helping ensure the accuracy of your credit information.

For frequently asked questions about your credit report, please visit experian.com/consumerfaq.

If no information follows, our response appeared on the previous page.

By law, we cannot disclose certain medical information (relating to physical, mental, or behavioral health or condition). Although we do not generally collect such information, it could appear in the name of a data furnisher (e.g., "Cancer Center") that reports your payment history to us. If so, those names display on your report, but on reports to others, they display only as MEDICAL PAYMENT DATA. Consumer statements included on your report at your request that contain medical information are disclosed to others.

A world of insight

The most common items in this section are late payments, accounts that have been charged off or sent to collection, bankruptcies, liens, and judgments. It also may contain items that are not necessarily negative, but that a potential creditor might want to review more closely, such as an account that has been settled or transferred. This information is generally removed seven years from the initial missed payment that led to the delinquency. Missed payments and most public record items may remain on the credit report for up to seven years, except Chapters 7, 11 and 12 bankruptcies, which may remain for up to 10 years. Unpaid tax liens may remain for up to 10 years from the filing date, and paid tax liens may remain for up to seven years from the filing date. Transferred accounts that have not been past due remain up to 10 years after the date the account was transferred.

Inquiries shared only with you

You may not have initiated the following inquiries, so you may not recognize each source. We report these requests to you only as a record of activities, and we do not include any of these requests on credit reports to others.

- We offer credit information about you to those with a permissible purpose, such as:
- other creditors who want to offer you preapproved credit;
- an employer who wishes to extend an offer of employment;
- a potential investor in assessing the risk of a current obligation;
- Experian Consumer Assistance to process a report for you;
- your current creditors to monitor your accounts (date listed may reflect only the most recent request);
- an end user to complete your mortgage loan application;
- insurance underwriting (auto or home).

These inquiries DO NOT affect your credit score and are not seen by anyone but you (except insurance companies may be able to see other insurance company inquiries).
